Q: How do I become a “Known Shipper” with the TSA?

A: To become a Known Shipper, we must first verify your company information with the TSA.

To qualify your company as a Known Shipper, please submit a credit application or request to be added as a known shipper.

Fracht FWO Inc will submit your company name to the TSA database for review and approval. We generally receive a ruling the same day. If approved, you will be able to tender freight to us immediately as a Known Shipper.

Note that Fracht FWO Inc can only verify U.S. based companies as a Known Shipper in the TSA database. Foreign corporations are not eligible for Known Shipper status.

If your company is not approved as a Known Shipper, we will submit an appeal on your behalf, if requested to do so. However, the appeals process can be very lengthy and approval is not guaranteed.

The security regulations used to determine “Known Shipper” eligibility are restricted information and are not available to the public. Fracht FWO Inc. is certified by the TSA as an Indirect Air Carrier (IAC) and adheres to these regulations closely as a matter of national security.

For further assistance with establishing your business as a “Known Shipper”, please contact our TSA Compliance Team at tsacompliance@fracht.com who would be glad to assist you.
